BRAND HISTORY

With over a century of expertise, Rapport is a fourth-generation British family business in London, creating the finest luxury watch accessories and gifts for discerning men and women around the world.

The Rapport story begins over 125 years ago with the driving ambition of the young, energetic Maurice A. Rapport who was spurred on by the success of his first clockmaking endeavours. Having decided that his father's business at the Black Eagle Tea Stores in London was not for him, Maurice was determined to use his knowledge of clockmaking to create the foundations of his new company, M. A. Rapport & Co.

His commitment and horological expertise propelled the company very quickly to become a household name in clockmaking throughout the world.

Clocks produced by the company found themselves gracing homes in all four corners of the globe. From the outset, Rapport clocks were recognised in the industry for their high quality. The founder's policy of using only the best materials and stringent manufacturing processes ensured that the company and its products would continue to survive for generations to come.

Four generations on and the business remains a private limited company, following the philosophy laid down by our founder, of innovation, quality and service and responding to market forces to create desirable products for the horological connoisseur. We strive to stay true to these principles, maintaining our foundations and continually establishing new standards in the quality, craftsmanship and technology of our products, crafted in Britain for customers across the globe.

HERITAGE

As a fourth-generation family business, our company values are at the heart of everything we do. This tradition has shaped our approach and has enabled us to create the finest luxury watch accessories and leather goods for distinguished men and women around the world, for whom time matters.

MISSION

To remain true to our values of innovation, quality and providing exceptional customer service to all our customers. To go from strength to strength with our commitment to keeping our products and customers at the forefront of all that we do, something each generation and our company founder would be proud of.

Our passion to exceed our customers' expectations no matter how big or small has ensured we have become leaders in the world of horology. We don't compromise so why should you.

VISION

For more than 125 years the Rapport story has followed its philosophy laid down by its founder, Maurice A. Rapport of innovation, quality and service.

Over a century later, in this fast changing world, Rapport has stayed true to these principles, maintaining its foundations, continuing to establish new standards in the quality and craftsmanship of its products to our customers across the globe.

EXPERTISE

We offer the ultimate unrivalled expertise in horological products made exclusively for the connoisseur. We have called upon all the crafts developed in the company in four generations of manufacturing luxury horological products. We have married together the skills of a cabinetmaker, the clockmaker and the electronic engineer to create a product range that is the perfect complement in any home.

CRAFTSMANSHIP

We pride ourselves on continually investing in development, innovation and technology. Our watch winders and leather goods are made to excellent standards by our expert craftsman for quality that lasts a lifetime.

QUALITY

Attention to detail and the finest materials and processes ensure the products meet the highest standards of the most discerning customer.

From our history dating back to 1898 and our global brand presence today, Rapport is leading the way with our desire to be the very best. As a family business we take great pride in what we do and this can be seen with the hard work and dedication of the Rapport team.

Welcome to the Family.
